The Sales Tax

Spokesmen for the various organizations throughout the country which are advocating reductions in Federal taxation, including abolition of the Income Tax, are stressing, not so much the need of reducing the burden borne by the individual taxpayer, but the necessity of encouraging investment in productive enterprises and in national works of development. Their main argument is that the Income Tax penalizes enterprise, drives people out of the country because of the levies imposed on them, and discourages investment in industrial and development works, leading people rather to invest in non-speculative bonds and securities.

If this is the chief end to be achieved through a further reduction in taxation, and if the all-important consideration is the stimulation of business and consequent greater employment of labor throughout Canada, then the Income Tax is not the only one which should be carefully examined to ascertain its effect on business and economic conditions. The Sales Tax, which imposes a five per cent Government levy on business should be studied into as well.

The Income Tax is one which the wage earner, the man on a salary, the farmer, the manufacturer, the financial man, and those who are living on the interest from investments, cannot pass on to anyone else. They must pay to the Government on their personal incomes, and pay proportionately large or small amounts dependent upon the size of their income. In this respect it must be admitted that a properly graded tax on incomes is a fair method of taxation. The Sales Tax, on the other hand, is in the final analysis, paid by the ultimate consumer, and the manufacturer, the financial magnate, the investor in bonds, mortgages and other securities, only pays to the extent that he is a consumer, and despite great wealth and large income it is only possible for a man to eat so much, or wear so many clothes, just as the average wage earner or man on a salary. True, his clothing and food and furniture may cost more, but the extent of his purchases are more or less regulated by his pocket.

The manufacturer of a given article fixes his selling price. To that he adds five per cent Sales Tax which he is obliged to remit to the Government. But he collects this tax money back again from the jobber, wholesaler, the merchant to whom he sells his product. The manufacturer does not pay the Sales Tax himself. In like manner the jobber, wholesaler and merchant passes it on to the ultimate consumer, all as part of the cost of the article. The consumer, therefore, pays the tax to the Government, the others being middlemen in the process of collection.

This Sales Tax, therefore, operates directly to enhance prices in Canada and, consequently, to decrease the purchasing power of the whole people. It likewise imposes additional expense upon all business concerns in the matter of bookkeeping, collection, remittance, and interest paid on outstanding monies.

It is a self-evident proposition that the removal of the Sales Tax would result in saving to every person in the Dominion, because all are consumers, whereas the removal of the tax on incomes would only benefit a comparatively small proportion of the population, and that portion which is best able to pay.

The removal of the Sales Tax, and the consequent lowering of prices which would automatically follow, would increase the purchasing power of people, leading to larger sales, and necessarily increased production and more employment.

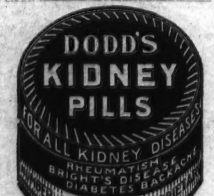

In a word, the effect of the removal of the Sales Tax would be just what the advocates of Income Tax abolition desire, namely, an added impetus to business, to production, to employment which would keep people in Canada, and to the whole all-round development of the Dominion, including the bringing of its wealth of natural resources into use through development.

On the other hand, if the Income Tax is abolished, and the Sales Tax retained, it will result in lowering the taxation imposed on accumulated and invested wealth without in the slightest degree benefiting the wage earner and man on a small salary, or that huge body of our population whose incomes are below taxable amounts, but these people will all still contribute heavily through the Sales Tax, which would continue as a drag on business expansion and national development.

If the financial requirements of the Dominion Treasury can stand it, reduce the Income Tax by all means, and, as proposed in a previous article in this column, provide for continued gradual reductions over a period of years. But if one tax is to be abolished outright and the other retained, the removal of the Sales Tax would appear to confer the greater benefit, not only on business enterprise and works of development, but on the people of Canada as a whole.

Russian Cossacks As Settlers

Many Are Ready to Come to Canada if Way Is Open.

Joseph Okulitch, advance agent of 50,000 former Cossacks, who desire to settle on the prairies of the Canadian West, has been in conference in Winnipeg with officials of the railway companies, and land settlement agencies to ascertain the feasibility of bringing over his charges at an early date.

Fifty per cent of the Cossacks, Mr. Okulitch says, have sufficient funds and equipment to undertake active farming immediately. The remainder are farm laborers. Mr. Okulitch, who was born in Siberia, was assistant minister of food supplies in the Imperial Government.

There are 1,500 Cossacks ready to come to Canada next March, provided existing difficulties against their entry into the Dominion, are removed in time. Mr. Okulitch presented a request to the authorities in Ottawa for assistance in settling 450 families under the auspices of the Russian Agricultural Colonies Society, who are not of Cossack origin. All these people, it was pointed out, are anti-Bolsheviks.

Mr. Okulitch will inspect land throughout the prairie provinces and decide upon the location for the first group.

Was World-Famous Inventor of Firearms

John M. Browning Dies While Working on New Shotgun

John M. Browning, world famous inventor of firearms, is dead in Belgium. Browning went to Liege, Belgium, to perfect his latest invention, an "over and under" double-barrelled shotgun and the message telling of his death came from Liege. The new gun had one barrel above the other instead of horizontal barrels. It was to be manufactured in the Liege plant. It was this plant which in 1913 manufactured the millionth Browning automatic pistol. In honor of this achievement King Albert conferred upon Browning the title of Chevalier of the Order of Leopold.

Claims New Method Of Making Steel

Germany Has Produced Metal Without Impurities and Defects

Discovery is claimed of a new steel-making process which yields a metal and at the same time nearly plastic metal than any made by existing methods.

The discovery, made in the laboratories of the German Dye Trust, is said to have resulted in the production of steel of the finest quality with none of the impurities and defects now unavoidable in the smelting process.

It is said the steel thus produced is cheaper to manufacture, and it is hoped that the new invention will place the German industry in a dominant position in the international market.

SEEN THE NEW TIFFANY BREAD WRAP?

Write for Samples and Prices Today

The late design in the wax is the feature which makes this wrapper so distinctive. The lace design hides folds and creases in the paper and maintains a fresh appearance even after much handling. The cost of the wrapper is trifling compared with its advertising value, and the suggestion of quality and distinction it creates in the mind of the purchaser. Remember 95 per cent of a baker's customers are women, and the lace effect of a Tiffany Bread wrap is attractive to a woman's eye.

Four Vacancies In Senate

Deaths Occur of Two Senators in Ontario and Two in Quebec

Two senatorial vacancies occurred recently through the deaths of Senator George McLaughlin Lindsay, and Senator Richard Blain, Brantford. Both senators were representatives of Ontario in the Upper Chamber. The late Senator McLaughlin was a Liberal, while Senator Blain was a Conservative.

Four vacancies now exist in the red chipper. The other two are for the province of Quebec, brought about by the death this year of Senators H. L. David and Alfred Thibodeau.

Newspaper Directory

A Valuable Book for the Sales or Advertising Manager

It is worth while for any sales manager who controls advertising to have a record of all publications in Canada with information as to date of issue, size, price and cost of advertising space. This information is contained, as well as much other statistical matter, in the 11th edition of the Desbarats All Canada Newspaper Directory just off the press. It certainly is useful for any Sales or Advertising Manager.

The Publishers—The Desbarats Advertising Agency, Montreal and Toronto, are offering a limited number of this 352 page book to advertisers, post paid on receipt of $1.00. The regular price is $5.00. Requests should be addressed on business stationery to the publishers, 161 Beaver Hall Hill, Montreal.

Canada's Great Experiment In Preserving Buffalo Has Proved A Success Beyond Expectations

Canadians in every province cannot help but feel a thrill of pride when they learn that the grand herd of buffalo, at Buffalo National park, has been increasing so rapidly that, although four thousand head have in the past two years been shipped to augment the wild herd in the Northwest Territories there is still such a surplus over the capacity of Buffalo park that arrangements are being made to dispose of two thousand more. This simple statement means that the great experiment undertaken by Canada in 1897 has proved a success beyond the highest expectation of its advocates; it means that the niche prepared by historians for the buffalo alongside the dodo and other extinct species will not be required; it means that one of the largest and most magnificent mammals on the earth has been given a new lease of life; and, on the practical side, it means that this animal, which played such a large part in the days of the opening up of our middle west, has been brought back to assist Canadians in solving problems connected with the development of the far North.

The "return" of the buffalo means very much to citizens in all parts of Canada, as those whose recollection or reading goes back to the eighties of last century will at once realize. Forty years ago the family buffalo robes were as much an institution in well-heeled Canadian households as the heating stoves. These robes were in constant use. One constituted a thick, warm rug for the small children to play on before the fire, another was always used as a laprobe when the family went driving in winter, while the best one made a fine splash of dark and regal color while displayed as a drapery over the back of the sleigh. And, then, even in the coldest weather and most distant spare bedroom, no unexpected guest could be cold if a robe were used as a coverlet. For those who had to do much driving a "buffalo" overcoat was a necessity.

This was the normal course of affairs until the middle eighties when the Canadian householder awoke to the fact that there were no more buffalo robes. They did not grow dearer by slow degrees. They simply disappeared from the market and could not be had at any price. Buffalo robes remained out of Canadian life until two years ago when a comparatively few specimens were available, because of the killing of the surplus animals in the Buffalo park in the autumn of 1924.

Success has, of course, brought responsibilities. If the last buffalo were now dead and its skin mounted and neatly labelled in the Victoria Memorial Museum in Ottawa, certain government officials would have been spared many of their anxious hours of the past ten years. For the Canadian buffalo did not remain an anæmic, spiritless "representative of a vanished race" that would hold the most hated race. He came back with a bang; his prairie steer was nothing to a young buffalo; and the herd grew so fast that the generous "park" of nearly 200,000 acres (roughly about thirteen miles square) became some years ago too small. Since that time the selection of the best methods of disposing of the annual surplus of about two thousand animals has been one of the immediate problems of the Department of the Interior. Two thousand buffalo were slaughtered in 1924, nearly four thousand more, as already stated, were sent north in 1925 and 1926 to the big Wood Buffalo park near Fort Smith, Northwest Territories, and now, at the proper season, two thousand more are to be slaughtered under the most modern and humane conditions, and buffalo meat, heads, and robes will, to a limited extent, be again available.

The problem is many and varied. There are experiments in domestication, in cross-breeding with domestic cattle and yak, and in dressing the hides. Progress is being made in all these and very definite success has attended the latest domestication investigation. The old methods of tanning turned out a good robe but one a little too heavy and stiff for making up into overcoats, except for driving. The newer processes produce a soft soft and pliable, and so much lighter than the old that men's overcoats now weigh from eight pounds up, according to the trimming. Buffalo robes have always been noted for their wearing qualities but these from Watnright are superior to those of old times, because the animals are not killed in summer but in early autumn, when the hide is in the best possible condition and the new hair is dark and glossy and firmly anchored. In autumn also the animal is in prime condition as regards meat. The disposal of a portion of the herd in 1924 gave Canadians a new idea of buffalo meat, which they had supposed was used chiefly for making pemmican, and when citizens discovered that it was as nutritious and well flavored as the finest beef, and had moreover an alluring wild tang the taste for it rapidly developed.

It is as yet impossible to prophesy the full development of the buffalo under modern conditions but enough has been accomplished to show that the one time "lord of the plains" has returned to become once more an important factor in Canadian life.

Passing Of The Rubie

Farmer of Today is an Up-to-Date as the City Dweller

An official of the American-Farm Bureau Federation, returning from a tour of rural communities in twenty-five States, expresses surprise that he had almost no farmers with whiskers. "Not even the old men had them." That official may have started out with the cartoonist's type of farmer in mind. That specimen is rare. He has passed out or shaved.

Another thing to remember is that farmers never had a monopoly of whiskers. At one time full beards were quite generally worn in towns and cities, but the farmer, out in all kinds of weather, had the better excuse for them.

We may as well abandon all notions that the farmer of today is a "rube," or "lick." Like most men, he wears clothes adapted to the kind of work he does. He would be foolish to go into the field dressed like a floor-walker. Mentally, he comes as near being "dressed up" all the time as the average man. He is well-informed, we mean, and knows what is going on in the world. With all modern means at hand for keeping in touch with things he takes advantage of them.—Toledo Blade.

Preserve Historic Churches

Large Sum of Money Voted to Preserve Famous Churches of London

It is not surprising that the British House of Commons has just voted, and by a large majority, to preserve to posterity a number of famous churches of London, which, while not capable of any longer serving any important utilitarian purpose, are nevertheless of such architectural beauty and historic interest that it is felt it would be almost a crime and sacrilege to demolish them.

Great Britain from time immemorial has had due and high regard for tradition. It has cherished and preserved its shrines. No country teems in greater degree with spots and places of historic interest. The action of the British Parliament in voting to preserve nineteen historic churches in the metropolis is a lesson that should not be lost upon other countries which may be considering doing away with landmarks of historic interest. Parliament should think twice, and more often, if necessary, before deciding to do away with buildings or other places that are linked in important and impressive degree with events and history in the country concerned.—Regina Leader.

Prince To Visit Ranch

Is Expected to Remain Two Months on His Visit Next Fall

His Royal Highness, Prince of Wales, is going to stay a while when he comes to Alberta next time. In fact he is going to stay two months or so, according to announcement made by W. L. Carlyle, manager of the Royal ranch, near High River, Alta. The Prince, he says, hopes to be in Canada next August.

Prof. Carlyle declared the Prince had been disappointed on his last journey in that he could only stay three weeks. He will spend as much of the fall as he can next year, according to present plans.

Prof. Carlyle is leaving for England in January and will confer with the Prince.

Timber and Other Reservations Now Being Thrown Open For Settlement Throughout Canada

Assisted Immigration

Policy is Fundamentally Wrong Says Toronto Professor

The policy of assisted immigration is fundamentally wrong because the people "who have to be assisted are not the best stock, mentally or physically," Dr. Peter Sandford, professor of psychology, college of education, University of Toronto, told the 21st annual convention of the Winnipeg Teachers' Association.

Immigration, he said, should be determined through intelligence tests, since morality is determined by intelligence and health has a considerable bearing on it.

Prof. Sandford referred to tests given in British Columbia to 10,000 school children which, he said, showed that those of Scottish origin were more intelligent than those of English or Irish stock.

Similar tests given Japanese and Chinese showed both these races were superior to whites in mentality, Prof. Sandford added.

How To Avoid Germs

Less Hand-shaking is Advised by Health Commissioner

Less hand shaking, more germ shaking. That was the health note sounded by Dr. Louis I. Harris, Health Commissioner, New York, who said that the traditional Anglo-Saxon form of greeting was good enough in its way, but not with pneumonia and influenza germs seeking their victims.

Persons addicted to demonstrations of fraternity, Dr. Harris said, should observe two rules:

"Avoid touching lips, nose or eyes after shaking hands."
"Do not touch food after shaking hands. No matter how often the hands are washed, it is likely they are a bit soiled."

To the homeseeker of limited means, bidding, perchance farewell to childhood scenes, the "newness" of the country to which he turns his face is one of its most appealing features. It means free and cheap land, social equality and opportunities for financial success and personal advancement that are particularly beyond his reach in his native environs. Canada has long been a favorite field for homeseekers. The successes achieved by the many thousands who have ventured into this great Dominion have hastened the settlement of the vast areas of free land once available. Free lands are now largely restricted to the outlying and rapidly retreating "frontier" regions of the so-called "newer" provinces.

In the rush and confusion attending the settling of such extensive areas it was inevitable, remarks the National Resources Intelligence Service of the Department of the Interior at Ottawa, that thoroughness could not at all times be maintained. Hence for economic, political, or other reasons various smaller districts were passed over. During the recent period of general readjustment a stock-taking of resources has thrown the spotlight on many such areas. They are to be found in greater or lesser dimensions in every province of Canada, including the "older," or eastern, provinces as well as the "newer," or western ones.

Included in such districts are former timber reservations, now culled out or cut over for lesser uses, or land for settlement because of lack of drainage, since provided; once inaccessible areas later traversed with roads, and lands reserved for sundry purposes but now thrown open. Timber and wild lands held by the government, for cutting or speculation and now forced on the market, probably represent the greatest proportion of the new acreage available for settlement throughout the various settled parts of the several provinces.

Such tracts of new lands are of more than usual interest and value. They give the pioneer his opportunity to make a home and wrest a living from the primitive land without having to face the economic and social disadvantages usually entailed in so doing by reason of remoteness and isolation. Though such districts are locally of a pioneer nature these advanced surroundings make available the amenities of the civilization and provide scope for the enterprise and industry of the settler and an outlet for his products. Opportunities in such districts are almost available to newcomers to Canada and to those in adjacent and more crowded areas.

New Province For Netherlands

Zuyder Zee Drainage Scheme Largest Ever Attempted

The world's biggest drainage scheme—the Zuyder Zee drainage—which will eventually add a new, valuable province to the Netherlands, is commencing with the formation of a company for carrying out the scheme, with a capital of 6,000,000 guilders ($2,400,000). The Dutch government has concluded an agreement with the company for the construction and upkeep until completion of an enormous dyke eighteen miles in length, which will separate the North Sea from the Zuyder Zee. The dyke will be unique in history. The cost of construction is estimated at 80,000,000 guilders ($32,000,000). The erection of the dyke must precede the work of the drainage system.

A Wealth of Pearly Peaks

The charm of the Canadian Rockies has cast a spell over the thousands who have drunk in the beauty of its lofty peaks and deep-set valleys. The majesty of such scenes that abound around Banff and Lake Louise has inspired many to set down their feelings in words. Mary Belle Rich of Spokane, Wash., is one of the latest contributors to this literature of the Canadian Rockies. In "Thoughts from the Sunny South," she has written:

Though I tarry by this bonnie southern Bay
And my thoughts are bright and cheery, still they wander up your way
Till they reach your Royal Rockies, with their wealth of pearly peaks
Lakes of Jasper, jade and sapphire, silver brooks and crystal creeks;
Forest lure, that larks defiant, on a slope that elips a cloud
Come upon a boulder towering, pilot pine, so straight, so proud!
And the scene is all so vivid that I sniff the crisp air
As it blows from glen and glacier till I fairly feel I'm there!
Then I scan your prairie splendor, rich with fields of golden grain,
And of course "Stop, look and listen" for a famous G. P. Train!
Watch a sky of blue that's blending, as the sun is sinking low,
To a pink or purple hush, shot by flames and orchid glow;
And it makes me oh, so happy these delightful thoughts of you,
And it makes me doubly happy, for I know 'tis all so true!
You're a wonderful Alberta, you're a blessing to the west,
And to Canada a credit; you're a "maple" burst of BEST!

THE TONIC THAT GIVES STRENGTH

After Acute Diseases the Blood Must be Built Up Before Recovery is Complete

* Fevers and other acute diseases like pneumonia and influenza, leave the patient weak, with thin blood and unstrung nerves. The period of convalescence is often long and tiring, and years of poor health may frequently follow to brief an illness as an attack of influenza or pneumonia.

Much of this sort of misery could be avoided by taking steps to build up the blood so that it can carry to the nerves and other tissues of the body the elements they need to restore their normal functional activities. To build up the blood and restore it to its rich, health-giving vigor, no other medicine can equal Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. From first to last it fulfills its mission to improve the blood and thus restore good health and vigor.

The value of these pills in conditions described above is shown by the statement of Mrs. Roberta O'Brien, Pembroke, Ont., who says:—"In Nov. 1922, I was stricken with pneumonia, and at the time but little hope was held out for my recovery. However, with the best of care I was able to walk about after some months but I did not recover my strength. The doctor told me I was anemic. My appetite was poor, my blood was restless, I was weakly pale and practically gave up hope of ever being strong again. I decided to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills with decided success. I decided to try them again. By the time I had used two boxes there was no doubt the pills were helping me. Continuing their use I was soon able to attend to my household duties. I continued taking the pills, however, until I had used twelve boxes, by which time I was enjoying better health than at any time in the previous ten years. In gratitude for what the pills have done for me, I give this statement in the hope that it may point the way to health to some other weak, despondent woman."

You can get these pills from any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cts. a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Predict New Empire Capital

May be Canadian City Opinion of Officers at Imperial Conference
It is not beyond the realm of possibility that London some day may lose its proud position as the heart of the British Empire to a mighty city in Canada or Australia.

Officials at the recent Imperial conference say the evolution of the British Empire will continue, but they admit they are sometimes bewildered at visualizing the distant future and contemplated possibilities and developments under the new scheme of things that has gradually been growing.

In the view of those far-sighted inhabitants of Downing Street, the security of the Crown is considered one of the outstanding results of the Imperial conference. Men closely in touch with those conversations point out that the Dominion Premiers argued more than a month over the relations of the mother country to the overseas Empire units, but the question of the Crown was never raised for it is accepted as an institution which has kept step with progress and democracy.

Joins Wheat Pool Staff

W. A. MacLeod Appointed Director of Publications for the Inter-Provincial Wheat Pool

W. A. MacLeod, Commissioner of Publications for the Saskatchewan Government, is resigning his position to go to Winnipeg as director of publicity for the Wheat Pool of the year, it is announced by A. J. McPhail, President of the Saskatchewan Wheat Pool and chairman of the Inter-provincial pool committee.

Mr. MacLeod, ex-homeschooler and former newspaperman, has been in the employ of the government since 1919, when he was appointed Editor of Publications. When the Bureau of Publications was created, some three years later, he was made its first commissioner. In this capacity he has been in charge of the open shelf, travelling libraries and motion picture branch and has had supervision of all government publicity. Mr. MacLeod came to Saskatchewan in 1906, and after homesteading in the Kerrobert district for three years, joined the staff of the Saskatoon Phoenix. He was at different times editor of the Weekly Phoenix, circulation manager, advertising manager, city editor and associate editor. In partnership with W. F. Herman, later on proprietor of The Saskatoon Star and, G. P. Armstrong, now of Vancouver, he started The Saturday Press, and with T. M. Fraser, now deputy clerk in the House of Commons, was associate editor for several years of The Saturday Press and Prairie Farm at Saskatoon.

Mr. MacLeod is an honorary member of the Saskatchewan Weekly Newspaper Association.

The Strength Of Radium

Floor Alive With Emanations After Repeated Washings When Small Quantity Was Spilled

Once in a laboratory a tiny tube containing less than two thousandths of an ounce of radium was accidentally dropped on a hardwood floor and broken. With a camel's hair brush they swept up the radium. Then they washed the floor with ordinary water to get the rest of it. But enough remained to render necessary another washing, this time with acidulated water, and still another, with soda water, and a fourth time, with hot water. Each washing yielded about $100 worth of radium, and still the floor was alive with radium emanations, and no accurate scientific measurements could be made in that room. Finally a carpenter came and scraped the floor. Three years later the shavings were burned, and the ashes were found to be strong in radium emanations.

Wins Both Wheat And Oat Championships

Herman Treile, of Wembley, Alta., is First Man to Win Both Sweepstakes

Canada walked away with the world's championship for best oats at the International Livestock Exposition and Hay and Grain Show at Chicago. Herman Treile, Wembley, Alta., following up his victory in wheat by duplicating the performance in oats with a sample weighing 49 pounds to the bushel.

Treile has established a record by being the first man to win the wheat and oats sweepstakes in the same year.

The International Wheat Producing Championship went to Canada for the fourteenth time in the last sixteen years. Treile, was crowned "Wheat King" at the International Livestock Show. He exhibited spring wheat.

An interesting sidelight of the wheat sweepstakes is that Montana was so confident of holding the championship trophy won in 1925 that it was left at home in Montana.

Saskatchewan exhibitors, who have won the wheat sweepstakes 11 years out of 16, were among the first to congratulate Mr. Treile on bringing the championship back to Canada.

The first class in which Canada participated was Durum wheat. Sencer Wheeler, the "Grand Old Man" of Rosthern, Sask., won tenth prize, E. B. Trowell, of Saltcoats, Sask., was 6th his heels and J. Casseja of Warrenton, Man.; James Carr, of the same town; I. Trowell, of Manitou, Man., and William Burnhough, Laura, Sask., followed in order.

Seven prizes were won by Saskatchewan exhibitors in oats, four by Alberta and two by Manitoba, Canadians capturing 12 out of 25 awards. William Burnhough, Laura, won sixth prize, Montanans capturing the intervening four prizes. George Avery, Kelso, took seventh place. Other Saskatchewan winners were: R. P. Hobbs, Shauncheon, 10th; E. Thompson, Pathlow, 14th; George E. Trowell, Saltcoats, 15th; George Edwards, North Battleford, 20th, and G. H. Barrett, Fluke, 25th.

Manitoba winners were: H. Tucker, Manitowish, eighth; and Samuel Larcombe, Bartle, 17th, while Alberta's quondam intrepid Richard Harrisson, Chalon, 14th; A. B. Longhead Bowden, 16th, and E. B. Tudor, Strathmore.

Dr. Sencer Wheeler, Rosthern, won fourth prize for hard red winter wheat, being the only Canadian winner in the 30 prizes.

An Interesting Exhibit

The naval section of the Imperial War Museum in London, was opened recently. One of the most interesting things to be seen is the 4-in. gun of the Lance, which fired the first shot during the raid on Heligoland Light on August 28, 1914. SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

DECEMBER 12

THE BOY SAMUEL

Golden Text: Speak, Jehovah: for thy servant heareth.—1. Samuel 3:9. Lesson: 1. Samuel, chapters 1-3. Devotional Reading: Psalm 119: 1-16.

Explanations and Comments

1. Samuel's Call, verses 1-9.—The Hebrew word translated "child" in the text is applied in the Bible to an infant and also to a man of forty. Josephus says Samuel had just completed his twentieth year when the word of the Lord came to him. If so, then he had reached the age that Jesus had when he dedicated himself to the Lord's business. Samuel held Eli in the service of the temple, and seems to have been the special attendant of the aged man whose eyes had begun to grow dim.

The continuous growth of character, from a child serving God, and to old age walking in the same path, is the great lesson which the story of Samuel teaches us. "The child is father of the man," and all his long days are "bound each to each" by true religion. Pardon cleanses sin, and even turns the memory of it into an ally of holiness, and in obeying God's command, and at the best, years have been squandered which do not return. Samuel is the pattern of child religion and service. How beautifully his double obedience is expressed in the simple words, "I am here," "unto the Lord," and it was "before Eli"; that is to say, he learned his work from the man, and in obeying him he served God. The child's religion is largely obedience to human guides, and he grows to be a man by doing what he is bid—a lesson needed in our days by both parents and children.—(Dr. Alexander MacLaren.

Five Rules For Happiness

Simple Things That Will Make Life Easier

- Five simple things for happiness were given recently in an address in Montreal by Dr. Charles Barker, former physician to ex-President Taft. They were as follows:
 - (1) Cultivate the habit of always looking on the bright side of things.
 - (2) Accept cheerfully the place life has allotted to you, believing that while you are in that place it is the best place on earth for you.
 - (3) Throw your whole soul into your work. Do it as well as you are capable.
 - (4) "Form the habit of always doing courteous things." The more happiness you give the more you get.
 - (5) "Adopt and maintain from day to day a simple childlike confidence in God as your Father."

FERGUSON WINS IN ONTARIO ON LIQUOR POLICY

Toronto.—The Ferguson Government has emerged from the provincial elections with a clear majority of 24 over all opposition.

Every cabinet minister was elected with the exception only of Hon. David Jamieson, Minister without Portfolio, taken into the cabinet at dissolution who was defeated in Grey South by a 22-year-old farmer, Farquhar Oliver, nephew of Hon. John Oliver, premier of British Columbia. In his home constituency of Grenville, Premier Ferguson was elected by the handsome majority of 1,334, though this was surpassed by the 2,313 majority of the Liberal leader, Mr. Sinclair, in Ontario South. Mr. Hanes, the Progressive leader, had a hard fight in Prince Edward County, but finally won by 41 majority.

An outstanding feature of the election was the defeat in Kingston by over 2,000 majority of Hon. W. F. Nickle, attorney general in the late government, who parted with Mr. Ferguson on his government policy and ran as a Prohibition candidate.

The verdict of the larger urban centres was solidly in favor of government control, and unexpectedly the entire Toronto representation lining up on that side, as did the three Ottawa seats, the three Hamilton seats, the two London seats and two Windsor seats.

It is anticipated Premier Ferguson will shortly issue a statement forecasting the early calling together of the newly elected legislature for the purpose of giving effect to his proposals for the government control of liquor, details of which have not yet been determined, and on which he has announced he desires to take the collective judgment of the House.

Italy Must Control Temper

France Does Not Take Kindly to Attacks on Legations

Paris.—Italy has the right to show her temper, but not often nor too much, Foreign Minister Orlando told the chamber of deputies. At the same time he gently warned that France does not take kindly to attacks on her legations in foreign countries, such as recently occurred in the border town of Ventimiglia after the recent attempted assassination of Premier Mussolini.

Most of the foreign minister's discussion dealt with French relations with Germany. Discussing an essential understanding with Germany, he said that a real settlement of differences, so that they would stay settled, would make for permanent peace.

"Grave differences with Germany still exist," he said, "but at least we are talking with Dr. Stresemann (the German foreign minister) and every day marks progress."

Welshly Californian Rewards Two Hotel Employees for Courtesy

Honolulu.—Because they were generous with their smiles and extended courteous treatment to a traveller, Ernest Ching and Harry Nolan, employees of a Walkiki beach hotel, have departed on a trip around the world. The traveller, Charles D. Clinch, welshly Californian, took a fancy to the boys when they greeted him on his first trip to Honolulu.

Good Year for U. G. G.

Calgary.—Reports submitted to the twentieth annual meeting of the United Grain Growers Limited, in Calgary, stated that the past year's results had been the best in the history of the company, the net earnings, subject to taxation, being $476,373.35. This was due to the large handling of wheat through the company's elevators.

Manitoba Lithium Ore

Winnipeg.—With $1,000,000 worth of lithium ore blocked out in the Point du Bois area in the Winnipeg river, about 90 miles north east of Winnipeg, the Silver Leaf Mining syndicate (Canada) Limited, will start regular shipments to Bradford, England, this winter, according to T. P. Hallan, secretary of the company.

Crisis in France Over Unemployment

Rapid Recovery of France Forces Industries to Curtail

Paris.—Unemployment, which began to appear in a desultory manner in the Paris region just recently, is now taking on serious proportions, due to the crisis into which business has been put by the rapid recovery of the franc.

The automobile and allied industries appear to be suffering the most, especially the forges and foundries making the heavier parts. Many firms are fighting the conditions by shorter schedules or by laying off some of their men, but even more drastic steps must be taken if new orders fail to be received before long.

The problem is likely to take on an important social character if the business slump persists and even now many firms are planning to let foreign workers go in order to keep Frenchmen employed as long as possible.

Flax Prize Goes To Montana

Canada Loses Out by Narrow Margin At Chicago Show

Chicago.—Canada was nose out in the flax contest by a narrow margin at the International Hay and Grain Show. Although getting exactly half of the twelve places awarded, Canadian entries just failed to get into the blue ribbon classes.

M. C. Trowell, Saltcoats, Sask., was third, trailing H. F. Ford, Union, Mont., the winner, and Lewis Riba, Plentywood, Mont., runner-up. Albert Schultz, Eureka, South Dakota, was fourth. Then came a solid phalanx of Canadian wins, taking three places in succession. P. J. Trowell, Saltcoats, Sask.; W. C. Cadd, Pathway, Sask.; and J. V. Swaby, Prince Albert, Sask., took fifth, sixth and seventh in order; A. Loughheed, Bowden, Alta., past winner, took tenth, and L. M. Foote, Hanley, Alta., trailed the field of prize winners.

Spring Wheat Championship

William Darnborough of Laura, Sask., Wins Honors at Guelph

Guelph, Ont.—The championship in the spring wheat section of the seed grain show, held in connection with the Guelph winter fair, went to William Darnborough, of Laura, Sask. Darnborough also carried off the highest award in peas. Andrew Schmidt, Midway, Ont., was the winner in the fall wheat classes.

Darnborough's sheep exhibits also were winners, and he was awarded the ribbon for the best Suffolk ram. The Shropshire ewe championship went to J. D. Whitehead, of Nutana, Sask.

Ask League For Land

Group of Kabbalists Want to Re-build Solomon's Temple

Geneva.—A petition that the League of Nations request the Palestine Government to allot a strip of land on Mount Moriah, Jerusalem, for the reconstruction of Solomon's temple has been tabled by the Permanent Mandates Commission here.

The petition emanated from a group of highly orthodox Kabbalists in Jerusalem, headed by Rabbi Breslau.

Several petitions concerning Palestine, Syria, and Southwest Africa were considered by the commission.

Deported to Canada

Washington.—Of the 10,294 aliens found to be unlawfully within the United States during the last fiscal year, 2,102 were deported to Canada. More than twenty thousand aliens were deported from entering the country, 15,309 of them being turned back at the Canadian border, according to official figures.

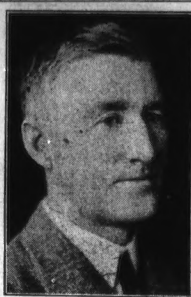

A Six Pound Beak

U. F. A. Convention

Lesser Number of Resolutions to Comp Before Annual Meet

Calgary.—There will be an unmistakable shrinkage in the number of resolutions that will be presented at the forthcoming annual convention of the U. F. A., which opens at Edmonton January 18. This is owing to the farmers now having their own government. The U. F. A. convention is by no means now regarded as "the Farmers' Parliament." That phrase was thrown into disrepute after the agrarians actually assumed the reins of office in 1922.

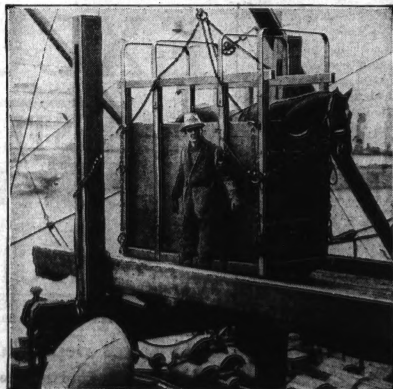

The wheat pool also has had the effect of minimizing the number of resolutions sent to the U. F. A., as all those bearing on the grain business are now forwarded to the board of the pool for attention. At the present time not half a dozen resolutions have been received for presentation to the U. F. A. convention.

Red Cross Plans Campaign

Funds Needed by Society to Carry on Work

Toronto.—With delegates from every province in the Dominion present, the 26th annual meeting of the central council of the Canadian Red Cross Society was held here. Arrangements were discussed for a financial campaign to be held next spring. It was stated that during the past six years $650,000 had been spent by the Red Cross in various health activities in all the provinces and that funds were urgently required to continue this work.

French Cavalry Mounts in Canada

Six highly trained horses, the pick of the French Cavalry and mounts for the three French officers who arrived on the Canadian Pacific liner Melita recently, were unloaded at the C.P.R. docks in Montreal from the company's freighter, the Bollingbroke, and were shipped to Toronto where they were used by the French officers in exhibition riding at the Royal Agricultural Winter Fair, held at that city. The animals, which were unloaded at Antwerp, were in charge of special groans throughout their ocean voyage

Will Test Newest Wheat

Dominion Experimental Farms to Plant Reward Seed Next Spring

Ottawa.—Plant wizards at the Dominion experiment farm here have selected a new variety of wheat named Reward, which they say will supersede Marquis as Canada's premier wheat.

The new wheat, it is understood, ripens ten days earlier than Marquis and has proved resistant to rust. It gives greater yields an acre because of the heavier weight of the kernels. Reward grown at the experimental farm last summer averaged 65 pounds to the bushel. The new variety yields better than Garnet, an early ripening wheat perfected recently at the farm producing a white flour similar to Marquis.

Plots of Reward wheat will be planted at the twenty-seven government experimental farms throughout Canada next spring to test its extensions to practical growing conditions in various soils and climates.

Millions of dollars in revenue have been put into the pockets of farmers of Canada and the United States. It is pointed out, through discoveries at the Dominion experimental farm, Marquis wheat, which is the staple variety of both countries and which has won world's championships many times in international competition, was evolved at the farm.

Western Horses Win

Clydesdale Stallion From Reston, Man., is Winner at Guelph Fair

Guelph, Ont.—The Clydesdale horses which came out before the judges at the Guelph Winter Fair, made a showing never equalled before at Guelph and very seldom equalled any show in the Dominion. Armpror Emigrant, owned by the Reston Agricultural Syndicate of Reston, Man., a stallion which carried off the grand championship award at the Royal Winter Fair, headed the male classes here with Fyrie Star, the property of W. J. McCallum, of Brampton, and Regina, winning the junior championship.

Westerners had a walkover in Percherons with Carl Roberts, of Osborne, Man., winning champion stallion on Monarch.

Nest of Pirates

Shanghai.—As a result of the piracy of the British steamer Sunning and the recovery of the ship, which was on fire, by the British gunboat Bluebell at Hongkong, British officials and shipping interests in the Far East are making a determined effort to enlist the assistance of the American and Japanese navies in a campaign to clean out the South China pirate nest located at Bias Bay, near Hongkong.

WOULD PUT AN EXPORT TAX ON CANADIAN WHEAT

Winnipeg.—Tough, wheat is not affecting the grade of flour, although it has increased the cost of milling stated W. A. Black, vice-president of the Ogilvie Flour Milling Company, Montreal, who visited Winnipeg recently.

The farmer he maintained, was not suffering through the degrading of the wheat to the extent that might be expected. While there was a difference of about eight cents between the price for the tough wheat and straight grades, the surplus moisture was being paid for by the miller, who was compelled to meet the extra cost of the drying operations. There was much greater chance of loss to farmers through moisture in coarse grades than wheat, Mr. Black said.

Export of Canadian flour had decreased in the last few years, due to the tariff wall put up by foreign countries against the manufactured product. Mr. Black declared that when a foreign country discriminated against flour by putting a heavier duty on wheat, Canada should retaliate with an export tax.

The Orient was not a steady customer. Shortage of wheat, or, at some times, a flour possessing a greater ratio of starch to the gluten, which served the Oriental better than Canadian flour.

Canada sold a large volume of spring wheat flour for the manufacture of macaroni and spaghetti, so that sales have become an important industry in Canada.

Canada's Rosy Future

Hon. T. A. Crerar Looks for Big Development in Next Twenty-five Years

Calgary.—Development of Canada during the next 25 years, he contended, was unequalled in the history of the world but what has been done is only the commencement, said Hon. T. A. Crerar, president of the United Grain Growers, at a banquet tendered by the board of trade to some 400 delegates to the annual meeting.

No country in the world, continued Mr. Crerar, is to see the development in the next 25 years that Canada will see. The delegates were welcomed on behalf of the city by Alderman Frank Freeze and J. B. Sutherland, on behalf of the board of trade.

Prediction Of German Astrologist

Says Next Year Will See End of Bolshevism

Strasbourg.—There has just been published here the prediction of 1927 of the German astrologist Dadekay, who foretold the death of President Ebert and Hugo Stinnes.

Next year will be revolutionary in character, he says, Bolshevism will come to an end, the Danzig Corridor will be suppressed, high officials of European countries will be the object of attacks and a tidal wave of unprecedented proportions will devastate parts of France and England.

Fight in Mexico

Brownsville, Texas.—Eight persons were killed and three wounded when Mexican agrarians attempted to take possession of the American-owned Ebanito ranch, near Metamoros, Mexico. Forty soldiers under command of Lieut. Col. Castillo had rounded up the agrarians, who numbered between 20 and 40, and reported they had the situation well in hand.

Buyer Large Farm

Winnipeg.—Dr. P. Schneider, of Berlin, has completed details in connection with the sale of the W. B. Bennett, 2,100 acres farm between Winnipeg and Selkirk to 30 German families, whom he represented. The property will be divided into 100 acre farms on which intensive farming will be conducted. The price is in the neighborhood of $125,000.

Incredible Value.

Reports from all provinces indicate that the Family Herald and Weekly Star at the price of $1 a year, is sweeping the country.

At the price of $1 a year, this big weekly journal is the marvel of the newspaper world. Notwithstanding the reduction in price (from $2 to $1) every big feature of this great newspaper has been faithfully maintained, and the publishers are ever watchful for opportunities to make improvements.

When one takes into consideration the huge volume, wide variety and high quality of the reading matter in every issue of the Family Herald, the question uppermost in the reader's mind is, "how can it be produced at the price?" It is a combination of a complete farm journal, family magazine and weekly newspaper—at a cost of less than TWO CENTS weekly.

Winter is rapidly approaching. For this coming winter's reading there is no better combination than your own local paper and the Family Herald and Weekly Star. Subscriptions may be left at The Sun Office.

French-Canadian Chanson Has New Lease of Life

1. Charles Marchand, well known French-Canadian folk song singer in typical pose.
2. Chansons have kept the spirits of log-cabin breakers high at many a difficult task.
3. Singing and paddling went well together.

Perhaps the only part of the North American continent that possesses an authentic collection of folk-songs is the province of Quebec. Four hundred years ago when the first French explorers and settlers came to the shores of the St. Lawrence many of these songs were on their lips and in their hearts and they have never died out. It is to the honor of the French-Canadian race that they have never been allowed to fade from the remembrance of the people, nor has the flood of ephemeral and rubbishy popular songs of the day overwhelmed them. Originally sung at the court of the French monarchs, they were passed on from father to son, and were brought with the early settlers from France to Canada. And as the years have passed the old ballads have been supplemented by new ones created by the lumbermen and habitants; for music is a living art in French Canada.

Only within recent years have we begun to realize how rich is the treasury of lovely melodies associated with the folk songs of Canada. Thanks to men like Charles Marchand, interpreter of the French-Canadian "chanson", these folk songs have taken on new life, and before long they will be available for the English speaking population of Canada, owing to the efforts of John Murray Gibson, whose translations will be published in book form early in the year.

With the idea of popularizing the English versions and thereby bringing about a closer understanding between the French and English elements of Canada, Mr. Marchand is at present mailing transcontinental concert tours under the auspices of the National Council of Education.

"I stole Prince Michael, Mariah! Actually took him right out of Yvonne's arms, almost actually, that is, figuratively speaking or something like that, and ran away with him. Mad flight over the boulevard by the sea at midnight, across Monaco and up the stone road into the Alps. Oh! Mariah, you made it almost too cold. Please turn on a little more warmth. It was thrilling, Mariah, that wild ride through the moonlight, all alone with the Prince—alone except the driver and he didn't count, of course. And Michael was in a real moonlight mood, too. Because, there, now it's too hot! Why don't they make water just right? Because, Mariah, we were running away to be married. Married in Genoa at dawn and all that sort of thing, and we were to come back and face the Grand Duke Nicholas in his villa at Nice and say, 'So and so!' If there's ever another throne in Russia here's a new princess to hang on to! That's what happened last night Mariah because Michael had the urge."

Martha's eyes widened and she stared at the bare form splashing in the pool. "But, Mademoiselle!" she protested. "It didn't really happen, did it?"

"Don't be silly, Mariah. One has to have a passport to cross the border from France into Italy, and one just can't smile one's way past those thin minded old fogies that stand on guard. Michael forgot all about that, so he was so filled with me, and of course I didn't remind him of it. I had all the romantic thrill of a dash to become a bride knowing I wouldn't have to be a bride at all. Now you may dry me, Mariah, but don't rub too hard. It could hardly keep from laughing when Michael lost his argument with the frontier guard and realized he wasn't having any nuptials in the morning." Mariah should have said, more so, "Yes, Mademoiselle," with a maid servant's reticence, but somehow her mistress was never dignified during that morning bath. The dice did not refrain from a prompting to shed fancy so, Mademoiselle. And her mistress gratified her.

"He turned on me very fierce and solemn and thus thundered at me. 'You knew we didn't have our passports. Why didn't you get them?' He must have seen my lips getting crooked because he said, then: 'Joanna Manners, you're a fraud!' But I'm not a fraud, am I Mariah?"

thia replied, but even her mistress detected more of hope than a conviction in her tone. For one brief instant, while the faithful maid held the thin yellow robe the slender little body was enfolded in her arms. The warmth and pulses of it went straight to her heart and she wished that she could be sure that the girl she had served through a hectic galloping year, was not a fraud!

The events of that tempestuous year had reached flamboyant climaxes; the distraught, mystified mistress Mariah had sent down the stairs to her first triumph in Yvonne's hours of the Avenue had become the Golden Girl around whom a vortex raged, a glittering, luring feature of paradise in a world of money and madness. And down in the secret recesses of Mariah's soul there was a fear she wished wasn't there. Perhaps this fear would have given a little comfort or, perhaps, it might have been stirred anew, if she could have seen a hard, unpleasant shadow that passed swiftly across brown eyes when her mistress caught the note of prayer in her maid's assurance that she was not what the disappointed Prince Michael had dubbed her. But the shadow had gone completely when Joanna was propped again in her mountain of pillows. The sweetness was still in the voice when it commanded:

Princess Michael then said, "Joanna Manners, you're a fraud!"

"But I'm not a fraud, am I, Marthia?"

"Now you may bring me some tea." For a moment the maid hesitated, then announced: "Lord Dorminster has been waiting, Mademoiselle, for much more than an hour. He is in your sitting room."

Joanna was all resentment immediately. "Why didn't you send him away? What in the world does he mean by sitting on my doorstep, I mean sitting in my sitting room, at this hour of the day?"

"He assured me that Mademoiselle had told him that he might come for her at nine. He is in riding clothes." "Well, I shan't pile out now for any body. Put something around me that I won't show through and bring him in. I won't even give him any tea, but I'll make him hold my tray."

Martha spread a hasty glance around the room—a room that was all gold and pink; a spacious setting for the great golden bed, with its ceiling of limpid mirrors. There were countless feminine things about, lovely and expensive; Joanna saw Mariah's roving glance and laughed at her. "Oh, I shall keep his eyes engaged; don't fear. Mariah. He is much too experienced to examine the corners of a young lady's chamber. Or to show it, at any rate."

When young Lord Dorminster appeared at the bedside Joanna ignored the cloud that boded his dissatisfaction with his long solitude in the boudoir sitting room, and frowned up at him without so much as giving him her fingers.

"What a terrible man you are," she accused him, "to begin on me so ear-

Proves Mother Is Your Closest Friend

Jersey City, N. J., Jan. 11. (AP) I awakened each morning with an unpleasant taste and was often reminded by my Mother that my breath was disagreeable. I tried perfumed tablets, mouth washes and other camouflages which gave temporary relief. After consulting my dentist and finding my teeth in good condition, a friend suggested my trouble was constipation. After taking a few doses of Carter's Little Liver Pills my stomach and bowels were relieved, foul and impure gases eliminated.

In the morning. Invent me some good reason at once or go away."

"But you told me last night that I might come. At nine, we agreed. You promised to ride to San Remo. It's a gorgeous morning, too."

Joanna considered him judiciously. "Do you know," she said, "you are the most beastly thing I could imagine! You have the most disagreeable habit of reminding one in the morning of what foolish thing one says at night. That's not fair, Teddy. Things are so different in the morning."

"Surely you don't expect me to forget all those things you said to me last night so soon as this morning?" he demanded, incredulous.

"Of course," she assured him. "I have anyway. What do I say last night, Teddy? Here sit down. You must stand over my bed like that. Hold my toast. If you're good you can feed me a bite now and then. What did I say last night, Teddy?"

"You said that you were really becoming fond of me and that after a little while you'd talk seriously with me—about our future you know."

"I really said that? Give me a bite of toast and let me think how to explain such a distraction."

He was gloomily silent while she disposed of a tiny nibble of her toast. His moroseness was so amusing she had to laugh at him, and she reached a finger to his lips, careless of the drooping away from her hair of the robe Mariah had wrapped about her.

"There now," she said, "I remember. I had just had a glass of burgundy with Roddy Kentworth. When he wants me to be very generous Roddy always invigiles me up to a sip of burgundy. I detest Roddy for that."

"I don't know him. I'd play tennis with him this morning. That was such a good promise, Teddy, it delighted him so, that I gave it to you too. If a promise is good one should repeat it, don't you see?"

"No, I don't see," he declared, still morose. "But Roddy's out of it because I'm on deck and he isn't. But it's the other thing you told me that I hope you haven't forgot."

"You mean about my getting fond of you? That doesn't require any immediate making good, does it Teddy?"

Intense Pains in the Back This remedy gave great relief

Recommends it to hundreds of people

Wm. Hollis, Birmingham, England, bearer of the Glaxo Pills in Montreal, ten years ago. He suffered intense pains in the back, caused by deranged kidneys. Glaxo Pills were recommended to him. He writes:

"I had great relief from kidney trouble after using Glaxo Pills. I have been a sufferer from kidney trouble for years in England and Scotland. I have given my Glaxo Pills to people troubled with their backs, and everyone of them has been the best of recommendations."

"A friend of mine, Wm. Oshorn, of Birmingham, suffered a long time with inflammation and swelling of the kidneys. He used Glaxo Pills for the last year he has felt no pain."

"Glaxo Pills have been of great relief to me and scores of other people. I recommend them to all."

"If you have pains in the back, swollen feet or hands, brick dust deposits, constipation, headache, failing appetite, suppressed or too frequent urination or feel dizzy, look to your kidneys. Deranged kidneys lead to acidosis, rheumatism, lung, liver and other painful maladies. Get a box of Glaxo Pills at once. Get it at all druggists. National Drug & Chemical Company of Canada, Limited, Toronto, Canada. 123

All right then, we won't forget that. I'm terribly fond of you and maybe I'll marry you, who knows?"

She considered him a minute and added: "I'm glad you are holding my toast, Teddy. You take everything I say so seriously. Now then, get out of here. I'm going to be dressed. And, evidently since Roddy hasn't remembered this morning any better than I do, I shall have Mariah bring me my riding togs."

Not Excepted From Rule

British Premier Requires Card for Admission to Royal Functions

When the Prime Minister of England goes to a party given by Royalty he has to carry an invitation just like any of the other guests. This was revealed at a party given by the Duke and Duchess of York for the Prime Ministers of the dominions. Mr. Baldwin, after fumbling about his pockets, was unable to find his invitation. The doorman had never seen the Prime Minister before.

"There's a gentleman here who says he's the Prime Minister, but he hasn't got a card," said the doorman to one of the duke's aides, who quickly went to the rescue. Mr. Baldwin was then ushered through the doorway, where he joined all the other Prime Ministers who had not been so absent-minded.

Little Helps For This Week

Draw night to God, and He will draw night to you.—James iv. 8.

Dear Father, when we call on Thee, Bow down Thy gracious ear: Our hearts would fall to Thee, Lord, indeed, If Thou refused to hear.

Heaven is never deaf—but when man's heart is dumb.—Quarles.

The action of prayer is as though there were a chain of light let down from the heights of heaven and reaching to earth, and as we grasp it first with the one hand and then with the other, we seem to draw it to us, while really we are raised by it to the loftier splendor of the light; or as though we were on shipboard, and straining at a rope fastened to a rock and thrown out to help us. We do not draw the rock to ourselves, but ourselves and ship to the rock.

Valuable Relics Destroyed

Many Treasures are Lost as Shrine is Razed by Fire

When the shrine of St. Anne du Beaurpe was burned some wonderful treasures were destroyed, these including the world-famed collection of valuables, some of them donated by Kings and Queens of Old France in the past centuries, which contained among other objects a collection dating back to 1663, an ivory crucifix of the same date, mass vestments embroidered with threads of gold made by Queen Anne of Austria, mother of Louis XIV, dating from 1666, crowns, thirras, sceptres, medals, watches, bracelets, chains, rings, lockets, etc., presented by grateful pilgrims for favours received. The slab of Mexican onyx, five feet in height, upon which the statue of St. Anne rested, has disappeared completely there being no trace after the ravages of the fire. This stone was one of the largest pieces of onyx in the world, and cost some $15,000.

Other treasures totally destroyed were the famous pilgrim's clock and the reliquary, made of solid gold.

Solved Housing Problem

Bavarian Woman Lived for Some Time in a Church

Living in a church in Munich, Bavaria, a woman solved for herself the housing problem. The vergor of the church noticed that she was there regularly daily, and was constantly engaged in prayer near the altar. Becoming suspicious, he examined the altar to see if anything was stolen. He was astonished to find in a recess behind the altar a couple of blankets, a spirit stove, articles of clothing, milk bottles, knives, forks and food.

At the London dairy show, experts said that milking cows morning, noon and night increased their production.

Encouragement For Writers

Toronto Club Decides to Make Canadian Literature Their Hobby Encouraging to Canadian writers will be the decision of the literature section of Toronto University. Women's Press Club. The members at a recent meeting decided to make Canadian literature their hobby and to get into personal touch with Canadian writers whenever possible, and to further the cause of Canadian literature by reading and advertising. A committee was asked to devise methods by which the section could co-operate with other bodies in advertising Canadian works.

CHILDREN LIKE THEM

Baby's Own Tablets Are Effective and Easy to Give

You do not have to coax and threaten to get the little ones to take Baby's Own Tablets. The ease with which they are given, as compared with liquid medicines, will appeal to every mother. None is spilled or wasted; you know just how big a dose has reached the little stomach. As a remedy for the ills of childhood arising from derangement of the stomach and bowels they are most satisfactory.

Mrs. Rose Veyo, Willimantic, Conn., says: "I used Baby's Own Tablets in the Canadian Northwest and found them a wonderful medicine for children's troubles, especially indigestion and constipation. I have also given them to my children for simple fever and the restlessness accompanying teething and they always gave relief. I can recommend Baby's Own Tablets to all mothers."

Baby's Own Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Letter Tells of Wonderful Relief After Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Coniston, Ontario.—"After a severe operation and three weeks' stay in a hospital I returned home so weak that I was unable to move a chair. For four months I was almost frantic with pains and suffering until I thought there could not be any help for me. I had never severe pains in my left side and suffered agony every month. One day when I was not able to get up my mother begged me to try your medicine. My husband got me a bottle of Vegetable Compound at once and I took it. I started a second bottle, and to my surprise and joy the pains in my side left me completely and I am able to do all my work without help. I am a farmer's wife, so you see I can't be idle long. In all, I have taken six bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, five boxes of the Compound Tablets, two bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Blood Medicine, and have also used the Sanative Wash."—Mrs. L. LAURENCE, Box 108, Coniston, Ontario.

On Friday Dec. 3, to the wife of Mr. Ferd Horn, a daughter.

Miss Ruby Carmichael, who was operated on for appendicitis last week in an Edmonton hospital, has recovered sufficiently to be removed to her home.

Owing to the snow-blocked roads to Bruderheim, Mr. Golz did not take his troupe of entertainers down to that town on Friday night. Another attempt will be made on Friday Dec. 17.

Miss Minnie Geistlinger of Edmonton, was a Sunday visitor in Stony with Mrs. Ph. Trapp.

A very nice party was held Tuesday evening last at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. Heichen, north of town, the occasion being the anniversary of the natal day of young Miss Erma, their daughter. A large number of this popular young lady's juvenile friends had been invited, and helped pass a very pleasant evening at various games. On departing, each and all wished Miss Erma many happy returns of the day.

Const. O. Mantle of Lac Ste Anne was a visitor on Sunday with Mr. Jas. Smith.

Hunters will note that the Big Game season closes on Tuesday next Dec. 14.

Big game license holders will note they are required to return their license to the Game Commissioner, with the certificate on the back filled in. Particulars at Sun Office.

M. M. Mecklenburg, the well known optical specialist, will be at the Royal Hotel, Stony Plain, on Monday Dec. 27th; and at Duffield Tuesday Dec. 28. See him and see good.

Quite a lot of sneak thieving has been going on around town recently. Several cases of parcels and goods lifted from rigs have been reported to the police who are keeping a vigilant lookout for this despicable type of thief. It is going to go hard for the offender when caught. — Vermilion Standard.

People are advised to buy their supply of winter apples now, while prices are moderate. A good assortment is now on hand at Mr. Charles Ries next to Zilliox shop.

Spruce Grove News

Blacksmith Brenenstahl is about to receive some opposition in his line of business, as a new blacksmith shop has been erected next to Dave Bell's garage, and will soon be in operation.

Butcher McKeen made a business trip to the City on Tuesday.

Mrs. Lewis, who has been running the restaurant at the Grove, has sold out her interests and moved to Edmonton.

The residents of Spruce Grove district are disappointed that the wedding of the two popular young people of the district, billed for Wednesday next, is to be held in Edmonton. Their very many friends still hope the affair will be held locally.

Promoter Geo. R. Dickie was a visitor at the Grove last week.

Wheat Pool News Notes.

The Alberta Wheat Pool has now a membership of 38,050 Alberta farmers; 100 contracts were received last week.

W. J. Jackman, Alberta Wheat Pool director, now in the Argentine republic, is expected home Dec. 15. He is studying conditions there on behalf of the Canadian Pool. Argentine markets its wheat in the old "dumping" style, only many times worse than Canadian farmers ever practiced. A few big firms buy practically all the Argentine wheat for export and they see to it that prices are decidedly low when the farmer has to sell.

The Alberta Wheat Pool directors will conduct series of meetings throughout their districts during the next few months. These meetings are open to all, the directors are anxious that there should be full discussion and big attendances.

The Nebraska Wheat Grower points out that during September wheat sold higher in Winnipeg than in Minneapolis, despite the duty of 42c a bushel against Canadian wheat going into the United States. The Wheat Grower gives the Canadian Pool credit for the higher price in Canada.

A Dorenee farmer had "tough feed" wheat last year which he sold to his local elevator for 44c a bushel. On enquiry from the Wheat Pool office he found that the Pool paid 73c a bushel for the same grade, hence this one man lost 28c a bushel on three loads he sold, as compared to price paid by pool.

O. A. Cragg of Eyremore writes to the Alberta Wheat Pool office: Personally, I strongly favor the co-operative system of marketing and think the directors have accomplished wonders in so short a time, and I believe the benefits generally will be far-reaching in many ways.

Here and There

Toronto.—For the first time since silver foxes have been exhibited at the Royal Winter Fair here, Ontario breeders have seriously challenged the supremacy of the Prince Edward Island fox farmers.

Immigration to Canada for the first nine months of the calendar year 1926 shows an increase of 66 per cent over the same period a year ago according to a statement issued recently by the Department of Immigration and Colonization.

Moncton, New Brunswick.—Frozen blueberries are now being shipped in quantity to Cleveland and other centres in the United States. So far eight carloads have left Moncton, and so that the fruit will remain frozen. Two more carloads are about to go forward.

Victoria, British Columbia.—Famous Players-Lasky are to establish a plant in British Columbia for film production. It was announced in connection with the $15,000,000 concern known as the Famous Players' Canadian Corporation, Limited, of Toronto.

Traffic in grain from Winnipeg along the Canadian Pacific Railway lines this year has been heavier than last year by over 12,000,000 bushels. With 110,298,085 bushels marketed and 63,010 cars loaded the increase over last year's ten month period were 12,188,437 bushels and 3,538 cars.

Antwerp, Belgium.—When the Canadian Pacific steamer Melita arrived recently, she was given an official welcome and a great popular demonstration as the ten thousandth vessel to enter the port of Antwerp this year. An elaborate programme was arranged in her honor.

Saint John.—Moose are reported nearly three times as plentiful this year than last in the Tobique district, according to Burton L. Moore, well-known guide. The rapid increase of these big game animals points to migrations into the territory. Guides and sportsmen have not yet decided the source of the movement.

A great service to the travellers on the C.P.R. lines will be put into effect with the first sailing of the winter season of the C. P. liner "Melita," when for the sailings of C. P. liners from Saint John to Europe between December 1st and April 12th, through tourist sleeping cars will be operated on C.P.R. trains from Winnipeg direct to the ship's side at the New Brunswick port.

Desires of popularizing old French-Canadian folk songs among the English-speaking people of this country, the National Council of Education, on the initiative of Major F. J. Roy, made recent arrangements with Charles Marchand, well-known singer, for a comprehensive tour of the Canadian west. The folk songs which Mr. Marchand will render in English have been specially translated by J. Murray Gibbon, dean of publicity of the Canadian Pacific Railway.

Diversions of six miles of Canadian Pacific Railway tracks has now been completed and raising of three additional miles of tracks is under way in the Gathneau Valley, according to word received at headquarters of the company recently. This diversion has occurred between Mile 8 and Mile 14, and affects the stations of Tenage, Kirk's Ferry, La Charite, Bennet, and Cascades, well-known summer resorts in that district, while the station affected by the raising of the tracks is that of Farm Point. The work has been in progress since April of this year. *
